

Recruitment Practices

(Based on: Child Safe Standards Toolkit: resource five)

The child Safe Standards require organisations that provide services for children to have recruitment and screening practices that reduce the risk of child abuse. Kananook Primary School will implement all aspects of this document during each recruitment phase. The completed document for each advertised vacancy will be held on file.

Recruitment checklist

Robust recruitment processes help ensure the best applicants are employed. From advertising through to conducting interviews and checking the background of applicants, it is important that each step is done consistently and thoroughly.

This checklist will guide our school through critical steps in the recruitment process. It includes objectives and examples for:

- selection criteria in job descriptions
- Advertising
- Face to face interviews including behavioural-based questions and questions about motives for wanting to work with children
- Working with children checks
- Police record checks and identity checks
- Reference checks over the telephone with recent line managers
- Probation periods

Selection criteria

Developing appropriate selection criteria for the position is a valuable first step to reducing the risk of appointing someone who poses a child safety risk. It will also ensure that applicants have the specific knowledge and skills required for the position. The selection criteria for child safety will be used in conjunction with the standard Key Selection Criteria provided by the Department of Education.

Depending on the requirements of the advertised position, one or both of the selection criteria below will be used in the advertisement for the vacancy.

Interviews

The interview process is a very important step in selecting the appropriate people to work with or around the children of Kananook Primary School. Panel members will possess a mix of experience and skills to carry out the interview, ensuring the position requirements are addressed. An open-ended style of behavioural based questioning will give the panel insight into the applicant’s values, attitudes and understanding of professional boundaries and accountability.

Useful questions may include:

Tell us about why you want to work with children?’

Describe a time when you had to manage a child whose behaviour you found challenging?’

Tell us about a time when you had to comfort a distressed child?’

- We have included two of the questions above to assist us to determine how the interviewee will behave in certain situations.

We will ask for more information if the applicant does not provide sufficient information in his or her responses.

- Unexplained lengthy gaps in employment history.
- The applicant says they do not value or ‘need’ supervision.
- The applicant is evasive or inconsistent in his or her answers.

Screening for Unpaid Positions

Screening applicants for unpaid positions will rely on the provision of appropriate police check documentation and referee checks where possible.

Volunteers will be required to be in the immediate supervision of a paid employee.

Police checks

During the interview process we will ask the applicant the following child safety specific questions:

If they have any criminal convictions, formal disciplinary action taken against them, or any finding of improper or unprofessional conduct.

The applicant's response should demonstrate a sufficient level of professionalism as well as an understanding of your obligations

- We have included a question about whether the applicant has any criminal convictions, cautions, other legal or pending cases, including formal disciplinary action, which may affect their suitability to work with children.
- During a face-to-face interview, we will take notice of how the applicant responds to questions with regard to his or her words and body language.
- We have ensured the applicant has undertaken a police record check (which includes identity check)

Working with Children Check/Referee Checks/Additional Checks Screening

Applicants for Working with Children Checks will occur as per Kananook Primary School Working with Children Check Policy.

Screening applicants for Referee Checks will be conducted for every shortlisted applicant. Any additional checks will occur as deemed required.

Further information

Further information on child safe standards can be found on the Department of Health and Human Services' website.

Additional resources for organisations in the child safe standards toolkit can be found on the Department of Health and Human Services website: In particular, An Overview to the Victorian child safe standards, has information to help organisations understand the requirements of each of the child safe standards, including examples of measures organisations can put in place, a self-audit tool and a glossary of key terms:

Note for registered schools: a forthcoming Ministerial Order under the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 will contain the minimum actions that schools must take to meet each of the child safe standards. There will be a lead in time before regulation will commence to allow schools time to prepare. The Department of Education and Training and the Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority will provide information and materials specifically for schools to assist with capacity building and compliance.
